Christian Employers Alliance Rejoice Over Supreme Court's Ruling to Stay the OSHA Vaccine Mandate

CEA members and their employees are relieved with today's favorable ruling to stop federal overreach.

The following quote may be attributed to Christian Employers Alliance's president Shannon Royce, J.D., regarding the U.S. Supreme Court's decision Thursday to halt implementation of the Biden administration's COVID-19 vaccine mandate for large, private employers, issued via the Occupational Safety and Health Administration:

"While we had hope for a decision on Monday, members of the Christian Employers Alliance are gratified and relieved the U.S. Supreme Court decided to stay the Biden Administration's excessive vaccine mandate as the combined case is litigated. As unelected and unaccountable bureaucrats continue to find ways to invade the home lives and workplaces of all Americans, we continue to pray for a favorable final ruling: One that addresses the concerns raised in our case to protect the religious freedom of CEA member employers to treat their employees who have conscience or religious objections to the vaccine with dignity and respect."

Christian Employers Alliance is a nonprofit organization whose mission is to unite, equip, and represent Christian-owned businesses to protect religious freedom and provide the opportunity for employees, businesses, and communities to flourish.
