Christian Values in a Health Plan You Control

Experience a community of like-minded Christians bringing transparency, strength in numbers, cost-containment, and fierce protection of your religious freedoms.

Covenant Choice is a health program that allows small and mid-market employers to regain control of their health plans. It affords employers with 25 or more employees the same access to funding, transparency, and creative cost-containment strategies of larger employers with 1,000 or more employees.

Most importantly, it gives employers control over their own health plan decisions and allows employers to align their coverage options with Christian values, as opposed to being forced to cover services or offer benefits that directly conflict with their Christian values.

Health care and benefits continue to have a very significant impact on the bottom line. ## About Covenant Choice

Covenant Choice is a Stop Loss Group Captive program that reinsures the stop loss policies of multiple companies, making it a larger and more diverse risk pool. The members of Covenant Choice vary by region and industry, making the program's risk profile more balanced than any one single company.

Members of Covenant Choice retain control over their own benefit plan design and share in the financial results. Unused funds from the captive may be given back after the close of the program year.

This program is designed to provide more transparency, control, and stability than fully insured health plans or self-funding on your own.

Covenant Choice may not be suitable for every business, but can be a good fit for employers who want their health care costs to reflect the health of their employees and want to align their health benefits with their values.
